

A British Puzzle

© British - All rights reserved

Across

2 A child who is fearful, nervous, or afraid to do new things, will sometimes be called _____ custard by other children. (7)

5 Something which is as flat as a _____ is extremely flat, level, and devoid of protuberances. (7)

7 Your goose is _____ when something ruins your chances, interferes with your plans or ambitions, or lands you in trouble. (6)

8 To be _____ is to be afraid, to lack courage, and to be cowardly in the face of adversity.

(7)

9 If you try to calm someone down, or to appease them, by doing them a small favour, or by giving them something of little importance, you are _____ them a bone. (8)

Down

1 Something which is _____ is full to bursting and can hold no more. (9)

2 Something which is pretty dire, but nevertheless has some small redeeming features, is a _____'s egg. (6)

3 Anybody who is guilt-free, naïve, or lacking experience of the world, is as _____ as a lamb.

(8)

4 When someone with a fault accuses another person of having a similar or worse fault, we say it's a case of the pot _____ the kettle black. (7)

6 _____ turkey is talking about something in a serious way and saying what you mean. (7)